Allisonville Meadows Assisted Living Receives Perfect Annual Survey from Indiana Department of Health

Fishers, IN – Allisonville Meadows Assisted Living, a member of American Senior Communities (ASC), recently received a deficiency-free annual state inspection from the Indiana State Department of Health.

A deficiency-free rating is the highest score a senior community can receive, with only a small percentage of senior care communities achieving this rating each year. Communities are assessed on their staff to resident ratio, cleanliness of the community, 100% compliance with state regulations, record keeping, safety measures, dietary practices, overall quality of care, customer satisfaction, and more. Surveys are conducted by inspectors through unannounced visits. In addition to their inspection metrics, inspectors conduct interviews with residents, family members and staff.

Christine Kelley, VP of Senior Living said, "Achieving a deficiency-free annual survey is a tremendous accomplishment and a reflection of the leadership, as well as the dedication, teamwork, and commitment of the entire Allisonville Meadows Assisted Living team. Every day, our team members come together with a shared focus on providing exceptional care and creating a meaningful experience for our residents. We are incredibly proud of this achievement and grateful for the heart and hard work that made it possible."
